Excerpt: .think thefe s anything much in being just a God of beasts and mountains. After all, it s us human beings that make Him what He is. So why shouldn t He be with us? And, having delivered himself of this striking speech, Rolandsen looked extremely pleased with himself. She wondered at him greatly as she walked away. Ho-ho! Tw as not for nothing that the knob of a head he bore on his shoulders had devised a great invention. But now the cognac had come. Rolandsen had carried the keg up from the wharf himself; he went round no back ways with his burden, but carried it openly under his powerful arm in broad daylight--so unafraid was he at heart. And then came a time when Rolandsen found comfort for all distress. And there were nights when he turned out and made himself regent and master of all roads and ways; he cleared them bare, and made them impassable for stranger men from the boats, coming ashore on their lawful errands, in search of petticoats. One Sunday a boat s crew appeared at church, all reasonably drunk. After the service they sauntered up and down the road, instead of going on board; they had a supply of brandy with them, and drank themselves constantly more boisterous, to the annoyance of those passing by. The pastor had come up to reprove them, but without effect; later, the Sheriff himself came up, and he wore...
