In spite of that neglect, the essay is so altogether natural and spontaneous in spirit, so intensely personal in expression, and so demanding of excellence of prose style, that it is the form, par excellence, for consideration in school if teachers are to show pupils much concerning the art of writing well. The essay is to prose what the lyric is to poetry - complete, genuine and beautiful self-expression, or better still, self-revelation. Most of the writing done in schools is straightforward narration of events, without much, if any, attempt to show personal reactions on those events - mere diary-like accounts, at best; mechanical descriptions that aim to present exterior appearance without attempting to reveal inner meanings or to show...
