However, in the current study, whether adhering to the of Schumpeter innovative thinking technological innovation theory, neoclassical theory are not satisfactorily answer a series of core issues of government R & D funded way conduction mechanism . The modern commerce Research Series: Government R & D funded role mechanism and incentive effects from the three levels of the micro, meso and macro analysis of government R & D funded reason, while recognizing that such a policy tool cost financial capital, but also may have the problem of government failure. On this basis, the book presents government R & D funding and other innovative policies complementary relations, government R & D funding policy is discretionary view. In addition, the book also take advantage of the new institutional economics path dependency theory to explain the technology last in government R & D funded necessity. Backward country is the introduction of technology as a starting point, the path dependent, self-reinforcing mechanism, enterprises will strengthen the dependence of the introduction of technology. Government R & D funding can compensate for enterprises...
